

SUSTAINABILITY

living within means sustain: to support or bear the weight of, to give nourishment sustenance: nourishment, food, a means of support, a livelihood sustainability: conservation of ecological balance by avoiding depletion of natural resources

Come along and be emersed in four days of challenge and learning about ways of living within the capacity of this earth's resources, and maintaining our systems of support. We will be workshopping, bible studying, worshiping, baking bread, attempting a pilgrimage, playing games, looking at 'sustainability' case studies, and hope to formulate an ASCM Sustainability Policy. So do come and join this SCM adventure, we need all the support, encouragement and ideas you can bring.

Dates: 9 - 12 July

Cost: $54 (GST free, please let us know if expenses are a problem.)

Location: Bannockburn, near Geelong, Vic.

What to bring: basics (sleeping bag, pillow, clothes, towel, etc.) all other essentials like chocolate, poetry, games, knitting, hats, candles, nose warmers and musical instruments. Also, please bring along a jar of soil from your home turf.

Note: There will be a general committee meeting in Melbourne to follow . All are welcome, but in particular we need a representative from each branch if at all possible.

Come prepared for all kinds of weather, make sure to pregrease your elbows, be ready to tackle some big questions and embrace good wholesome answers, and if you're driving, take care on the roads.

Till soon.
