Conference details

Getting there

Visitors from outside Sydney are welcome to arrive on Monday at any time before 4pm, and we will look after you from there! For Sydneysiders, we will be catching a train up together on Monday afternoon.

What to bring

Blankets are provided, but you'll need sheets. Don't forget lots of warm clothes! Feel free to bring musical instruments, games, etc...

After the conference

The conference will finish on Thursday after lunch. The train from Katoomba to the airport takes (at least) 2 hours.

The conference will be followed by the ASCM's 'July general committee', which will also be held at Waratah Lodge.

Some people will be going to the School of Discipleship in Canberra (10-13 July), where Ched Myers is the main speaker, and we may be able to organise billeting for you if you're not from Sydney. If you need to stay after the conference for this or because your plane leaves on Friday, let us know.

What is the ASCM?

The Australian Student Christian Movement is an ecumenical community that is the living presence of God on Australian university campuses: nurturing each other, sharing an intelligent faith, and acting for justice in the world. We are the Australian branch of a large international movement.
